First, some logistical notes

- Grades up until now have been entered
 - Participation lowered to 10% to allow for the methods/results section to be counted in the grade
 - Participation based on in-class activities and annotated bibliography entries
 - If you did not submit annotated bibliography entries, you can do so up until LDOC for half credit
- If you submit a methods/results section on time, you will get a 5/5
- If you have any questions about your grades or if I made a mistake when counting participation, let me know and I will review

Results Option

- Instead of submitting the entire section, instead you could bring to class:
 - Main table
 - Main figure
 - Bullet points of the findings you want to highlight
- We can work in pairs to solidify your findings and outline this section
- Pros: less work between now and then
- Cons: no direct feedback on the writing for those two sections

Final Paper

- Due by the end of our final period on May 5: 12pm
- Professor Smith-Lovin is grading the final papers and giving feedback on the lit reviews and methods and data sections
- Email to smithlov@duke.edu
 - Not Em
